NOTE: GCBR has entered into a Statewide Professional Standards Cooperative Enforcement Agreement; therefore, moving forward, anyone interested in serving on the Grievance or Professional Standards Committees will need to apply for Maryland REALTORS' Grievance or Professional Standards Committees. MR is dedicated to ensuring these committees are geographically diverse and will provide training. It is important for GCBR members to volunteer on these state committees When cases arise from our association. we need to be able to seat panelists with local knowledge and expertise. You may also be called on to serve on panels for cases from other associations. A functioning, ethical professional standards enforcement system is crucial to reducing the number of industry related lawsuits saving members time and money, lowering the cost for consumers to have complaints addressed, and maintaining the reputation and professionalism of the REALTOR brand, YOUR brand.
